2013 Edition

Your Gifts Define Our Success
Dear Union College Community,

Many thanks for a warm welcome into the Vice President for Advancement role. Prior to my appointment in June, I had the pleasure of traveling the country for the past three years to meet many of you that call Union your home away from home. What I enjoyed most was hearing your stories of what Union College has meant to your life as it has also meant so much to mine. I came to Union as a first generation college student who just wanted to be in the mountains and get a degree. What I found was a passion for life-long learning, an appreciation for the people and traditions of southeastern Kentucky, the best friends anyone could ask for and even a husband of almost ten years.

Additionally, in my time as our Development Officer, I had the opportunity to introduce Union College to new audiences. In presenting Union, it is hard to express what makes us special without mentioning several attributes: our tradition of service; our presence in the beautiful hills of Kentucky; our unmatched bonds and friendships between faculty, staff and classmates; and our collective attitude that—to steal a quote from my friend Dave Cantrell ’72, ’73 MA—“Union may be small, but it’s not small minded.”

My charge in this new role will be to do my part in making Union the best version of itself. I plan to accomplish this through increased alumni and community partnerships, meaningful programming, stewardship and mission-driven fundraising. To achieve this we will need an even more active alumni body, a base of neighbors, parents and friends that continues to grow and become involved, and students who understand that when they graduate that their relationship with the college does not end, but begins anew.

This year we will continue to focus our attention toward “Turning the Lights On,” our outdoor athletic field lighting campaign, as well as connect with those who wish to leave a mark in the new Center for Health and Natural Sciences in the former Knox County Hospital. We will launch an alumni directory project in partnership with Harris Connect to commemorate our 135th year. Additionally, we will launch an alumni student mentoring program and continue to improve our relationships with our friends near and far. In the coming year you will also hear of the exciting plans for new capital projects and renovations.

Finally and most importantly, I want each of you to know how valuable your gifts to the college really are. Each one is not only used for its intended purpose, but is also celebrated. Your gift to Union says, “We believe in you; we believe in the college.” Union exists today because of our predecessors who believed and then invested in our future. I hope you too will consider such an investment, no matter the size.

Please spend some time with this publication, keep it for reference or even share it with a friend. My goal is to celebrate our investors and help clarify Advancement at Union College. If you have additional questions or if we have sparked a notion, please do not hesitate to connect.

Jessica Terry Bergman ’98
Vice President for Advancement
There is no universal definition of success. For some, it is defined by money, fame or power, while for others, it is more about self-fulfillment and creating a balanced life that is not consumed with career demands.

For Union College, success hinges on effectiveness. We commonly ask ourselves if we’re making a difference, achieving goals and adding value to society. When we answer yes to these questions, it’s because of you. Without your support, Union would not be positioned to provide cultural and educational opportunities and transformational experiences that pave the pathways of our future leaders. As you can see, your gifts define our success.

Inspired by the Union College definition of success, this publication contains many “dictionary” entries for terms, associations, societies and more. We hope you enjoy the theme and find it useful as well.
Recognition Levels

VISION MAKER SOCIETIES

Groups of philanthropists who heavily invest in Union College so that it may continue to be a springboard for great minds, for young leaders and for all those with a commitment to education.

Groups include:

DANIEL STEVENSON SOCIETY

For donors of $1,000,000 or more cumulatively. Credited with rescuing Union from almost certain closing, Daniel Stevenson of Versailles, Ky., served as Union’s president from 1888 to 1897. He fulfilled his dream of establishing a Methodist college in the area he considered in the greatest need of service. He was the first president after the college became affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

FANNY SPEED SOCIETY

For donors of $500,000 - $999,999 within the fiscal year. Mrs. Fanny Speed of Louisville was Union’s first great benefactress. Her interest in Dr. Stevenson’s purchase of Union’s property is evident through her gifts totaling more than $60,000 during his administration. Following her death in 1902, Union received half of her estate, approximately $266,000. These funds helped to complete Speed Hall and rebuild both Stevenson Hall and the Administration building (renamed Classroom Building and later Centennial Hall).

ABIGAIL E. WEEKS SOCIETY

For donors of $100,000 - $499,999 within the fiscal year. Miss Abigail Weeks, a beloved librarian and head of the English department, served the college for 32 years. In the June 2, 1937 issue of the Orange and Black, the school paper, her service to Union was recognized: “She gave to Union College her sacrificial loyalty, and fulfilled the sentiment of her own lines, written as a fitting close to the college Alma Mater, ‘We will live for thee.’”

Defining the Basics

ANNUAL FUND

The Annual Fund (formerly the Student Impact Fund) is part of a continuing effort to maintain our high academic standards and provide physical improvements to campus while making a Union College education affordable to all students. Your contributions to the Annual Fund help narrow the gap between actual operating costs and what students pay in tuition. Your gift is used immediately and because it is unrestricted, is applied where it will have the greatest impact.

ENDOWMENTS

Named endowments for scholarships, Honors Day awards or the General Fund are investments that generate yearly funds for students. The initial investment ensures the principal amount of your gift grows as your original principal remains intact. Only the interest (up to a defined percentage set by the Board of Trustees) is spent. Union invests your contribution in a special account and distributes a portion of earnings yearly to students via scholarships or awards. Gifts in future years can be added to this fund, which helps grow investment and the distribution.

FISCAL YEAR

A 12-month period over which Union College budgets its spending. Our fiscal year begins on July 1 and ends June 30.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Donors often choose to honor family members, faculty or other individuals through endowed scholarships. In some cases, members of a particular class or group have pooled gifts to create a special scholarship. The minimum required to establish an endowed scholarship is $10,000. Endowed Scholarships are awarded in the fall as students begin the semester. Scholarships are crucial, as nearly 99 percent of our students receive some type of financial assistance, and we see an increased need for assistance each year.

Defining Our Initiatives

CAMPAGNA

1. An intensive fundraising effort designed to raise a specified sum of money within a set time period. The funds will help meet the varied asset-building needs of an organization.

Example:

TURN THE LIGHTS ON

1. Union College has a rich athletic history spanning more than a century. To meet the challenge of creating a more vibrant campus, as well as enhance our community partnership, we have launched the “Turn the Lights On” campaign to support the purchase, installment and maintenance of lights for the outdoor athletic fields. This includes our Burch-Nau soccer and football field, the Colonel Harland Sanders baseball field, the Union softball field and the driving range area. 2. This project will directly impact more than 300 students in eight athletic programs.

3. Additionally, the college will become a host to multi-level collegiate and high-school competitions and events including, but not limited to, conference tournaments and summer camps. 4. Most importantly the atmosphere created by nighttime events would boost recruitment and retention rates, lead to higher community attendance at games and allow student athletes to avoid conflicts between academic schedules and sport schedules.

5. Campaign supporters will be recognized at the first night game of their choice and will become leaders in creating a more energetic campus environment.

Defining Student Accolades

HONORS DAY AWARDS

Endowed awards provide funds for recognizing students with superior academic performance in particular fields of study or areas of interest, talent or leadership. Members of academic departments make these selections of annual recipients. Our spring Honors Convocation usually recognizes those selected for these honors. The minimum level to endow a named award is $5000.
